POLITICS AND GOVERNANCE
Predesigned Concentration
Humphrey School of Public Affairs
University of Minnesota

Many students who apply to schools of public affairs are fascinated by politics and hunger for a way to learn more about it and find a career path related to politics. One of the unique strengths of the Humphrey School of Public Affairs is its large, diverse, and nationally prominent faculty including many political scientists, who stand out as scholars and instructors as well as being engaged with the real-world of policy and politics. The School is a hub of activity with prominent national and state politicians, policy makers, and activists, creating an exciting environment for learning and practice.

Students at the Humphrey School can pursue programs in government relations; campaigns and election administration; advocacy, law and policy; and global governance and human rights. The concentration in Politics and Governance offers courses in each area as well as guidance for internships and employment opportunities.
