This course explores the theory and practice of Chicanx and Latinx politics through an analysis of experiences, social agency, and subsequent responses to larger political systems and behaviors. It examines unequal power relationships within the United States; the Latinx political movements for educational and social justice; and the relationship between social diversity, stratification, and the political economy.

Additionally, in this session we will examine how demographic changes have impacted public participation of Latinx people in Minnesota.

Dr. Guillermo E. Narváez is a lecturer in Chicano & Latino Studies at the University of Minnesota. His current research examines Latinx demographic changes in Rural Minnesota and the Midwest.

Monday/Wednesday, 2:30-3:45 pm

Instructor is Guillermo Narvaez.

Questions about the course? Email gnarvaez@umn.edu. Need a class permission number? Email Stacey Grimes at grime004@umn.edu.