Spring 2022 – PA 5190 Section 002
Chicanx & Latinx Politics

Course Overview
This course explores the theory and practice of Chicanx and Latinx politics through an analysis of experiences, social agency, and subsequent responses to larger political systems and behaviors from the historic unequal power relationships in the United States.

In this session we will examine how demographic changes have impacted public participation of Latinx people in Minnesota and the Midwest.

Dr. Guillermo Narváez is a lecturer in Chicano & Latino Studies at the University of Minnesota. His current research examines Latinx demographic changes in Rural Minnesota and the Midwest.

Monday/Wednesday, 2:30-3:45 pm
Instructor is Guillermo Narvaez.

Questions about the course? Email gnarvaez@umn.edu. Need a class permission number? Email Stacey Grimes at grime004@umn.edu.

Who Should Take This Course?
Students who are interested in obtaining an advanced introduction to history and methodologies in Latinx studies with a focus on public participation.